These are among the sayings and speculations afoat, and they are all at least within the scope of probabilities. he fact is:—

We want more men in Mexico.

We want more money to pay them.

We want the mail-steamers for the army.

We want munitions, and supplies, and ships, and samers as transports.

We want munitions, and supplies, and ships, samers, as transports. We want that castle. We want to pay off Santa Anna in his own metal. We want a further reward to the troops for exponenselves to be shot at, than the pairty sum of $7

gress, corresponding with the spirit and temper of the people.

We want more action and fewer speeches.

We want a speedy and honorable peace, and a judicious notion of a single day in Congress may give us all these things, for they are all at hand. We have had glory enough, and cripples enough, and dead men enough, and expenses emough, and blarney enough, and delay enough, and forbearance enough; and we want peace. But if the only alternative is more dead men, and more blood, send on your troops, your money, and your men, and blaze away at once, and finish the work. If the Mexican Congress refuse peace, give them war to their heart's content; if they choose steel, drive it home to the muzile—if they prefer to be extinguished, extinguish them—if they will not listen to reason, wake them up with the thunder of your mountain batteries—if expense is necessary, expend and count the cost afterward—if men are wanted, call them, and they will come. Action, concert, unanimity, liberslity, despatch, celerity, are all that are really wanted. The war should be terminated before the recurrence of the wet weather, and it can be done.

TWENTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

Senate.

Wassington, Jan. 12, 1847.

Bright and sparkling morning. Pennsylvania avenue ransical with the sleigh bells. Large and highly respectable representation of the sovereign people in the Capitot his morning. A number of distinguished visiters on the floor of the Senate. Half, past twelve. Senate not yet called to order. Ten minutes of one o'clock the rap of the Chairman's hammer, brought the Senate to silence. Prever, selemn and affecting, by Rev. Mr. Slices, in especial reference to the death this morning, of the Hon. J. P. Fernybacken, one of the Senators from Virginia. Mr. Arcuson in the chair, the Vice President being sick.

Journal not read as yet.

Mr. Arcuson in the chair, the Vice President being sick.

Journal not read as yet.

Mr. Arcuson in Virginia of the other House, in refertion to the life and death of his late colleague.

And there was a pause.

Mr. Manoum moved that the reading of the journal be dispensed with. Agreed to.

Mr. Arcusa rose, and after referring to the death of Mr. Barrow, and to the fact that he was one of his dearest and best friends, and that on the occasion when the grate-tul testimonials of Senators burst out from every corner of the Chamber, he too had desired to misgle his feeble evidence with that of others to the memory of that Senator, but he had been unequal to the task. A corresponding occasion was now presented, from which Mr. Archez said he could not evolvent himself as before, because of the relation in which he stood to the deceased in this intance as his colleague. He only had the benefit of a slight acquaintance with said coleague, and could not, herefore, be conversant himself as before, because of the relation in which he stood to the deceased him, and the affectionate attentions of his family could do to save him. Like Mr. Barrow, Mr. Pennybacker was among the youngest of the members of this body. He was at an asge promising a long career of honor and of usefulness, but he is cut down. Another sascciate of our's has been stricken down by the spoiler, in named Wilson, upon a woman supposed to be his wife, in the vicinity of Rancocas, New Jersey, was yesterday exaggerated into an awful murder, and the good citizens of Camden were all on the quivive in expectation of being able to secure the supposed murderer, a description of whose person had been widely disseminated. A man being discovered paddling about in a boat near the island opposite Camden, by the crew of one of the ferry boats, and his dress happening to correspond with the description, he was captured and lodged in prison on suspicion. He was subsequently ascertained to be an entirely innocent person, and discharged. The real criminal is still at large, but the victim of his crueity still survives, though beaten in a most brutal manner.

The intense cold of last night has accumulated ice of considerable thickness in the Delaware, and the navigation is much impeded by it, though vessels are not hindered in their arrivals and departures when assisted by the city ice boat. An injunction has been applied for to restrain the Western Telegraph Company from the use of Morse's telegraph system—a misunderstanding having arisen between the patentees and company in relation to the extent of the right sold. The case is to be argued on Saturday next; but it is to be hoped that a compromise will be effected, so as not to hinder the operations of the company.

Beston, January 12, 4 P.M. The Weather-Ship Lapland-Steamer R. B. Forbes-

Merchants—Governor's Message—Theatricals.

We have just emerged from a quiet fall of snow which commenced here on Sunday afternoon, and continued without intermission until Monday night, when the wind changed to the westward, and cleared "the vaulted firmament on high." The snow is about four inches deep on the ground, and is not drifted, consequent. ly the sleighing is excellent, and merrily ring the bells. in town and country, of sleighs innumerable. All we ly the sleighing is excellent, and merrily ring the bells, in town and country, of sleighs innumerable. All we want now is a full moon; but I fear before she fills her horns, the present solid whiteness of the ground will be changed to soft and liquid mud. We must, therefore, enjoy the present season, and hope it may continue till we are tired of it.

You will perceive by the papers, that the ship Lapland, Capt. Simpson, from New Orleans, bound to this port, cut away her masts in Nantasket roads on Sunday night, although the weather here was very mild, so much so that vessels by at anchor is our harbor with their sails loose. It appears that she had become inbayed, without room to stay or veer, with the rocks and break ers under her lee, and that she touched the bottom before she brought up, and fearing that she would bump a hole in the bottom, were the causes which rendered it necessary to cut away her masts. The weather was so close that it was impossible to see twice the vessel's length from her, when the breakers were discovered under her lee. Both anchors were immediately let go, and as she swung to them she touched the bottom and commenced thumping. It was then her masts were cut away; and I have no doubt this prompt action on the part of the captain, was the means of saving the ship. As it was she leaked considerably. The steamer R. B. Forbes, Captain Merris was called into immediate requisition; but, unluckily, both her funnels, or smoke pipes were unhipped, and it was 9 P. M. before she received orders to get ready. Captain Morris with only his ewn boat's crew, however, went to work, shipped the funnels, and by 7 A. M. the next morning, the Lapland was towed up to the wharf. I mention this instance of despatch because it is highly creditable to Capt. Morris, and has deservedly been the theme of considerable commendation among mercantile men.

highly creditable to Capt. Morris, and has deservedly been the theme of considerable commendation among mercantile men.

The R. B. Forbes is an iron vessel, about three hundred tons, with two engines, of one hundred and fifty horse power each, which work two propellers under the countra. She cost nearly $70,000 and is owned by the underwriters, excepting a share or two by R. B Forbes, Esq. She was built and her machinery made by Mr. Outs Tuits, at East Boston, agreeably to the designs of Mr. Ericason, and under the superintendence of Mr. Forbes. Bhe is the first regular tow boat belonging to this port. When in the course of construction, many of our wise men from the East, sneered at her and Mr. Forbes, and predicted that she would be a failure and a humbug, but since she has been in operation they have been compelled to admit that she performs wonderfully. The fact is, there are many moneyed men here who, for fear of risking a dollar in anything new which they do not understand, would rather spend twenty on old isahioned affairs, because they happen to know something about them. Mr. Forbes is a man of genius, and if he has good reason to believe that a thing can be improved, he lears not to try the experiment. The new rig which he invested and applied to the ship Massachusetts, and bark Edith, although not popular at present, I do no entertain a doubt, will be universally adopted in the course of another generation. Mr Forbes actually knows more about ships and ship building, than ninetenths of all our ship owners put together.

Our Governor communicated his message to both branches of the Legislature in convention, that forenoon. It is a decent document, which will, of course, please the whigs, and offend the democrats and abolitionists, all the whigs, and offend the democrats and abolitionists, all the whigs, and offend the democrats and abolitionists, all the whigs, and offend the democrats and abolitionists, all the whigs, and offend the democrats and abolitionists, all the whigs, and offend the democrats

From Texas.—The steamship Galveston, Capt. Haviland, arrived yesterday from the city of Galveston.
The emigration setting into Texas continues to be very large, principally from Germany.
The Austin papers state that a scotting party of fourteen men, under Lieut. Neal, recently discovered an encampment of from four to six hundred Indian warriors, on the waters of the San Gabriel. The scouting party did not approach the Indians, fearing hostilities, but suppose that they were Camanches.

The Texas Hanner, published at Hantsville, Walker county, gives the following account of a tragedy which recently occurred at Mustang Prairie, Houston county.

An altercation about a game at cards arose between Mr. James Vance, of Huntaville, and a Mr. Blackwell, whose father lives a few miles from that place, when the former drew a pistol and shot the latter dead. The next day a company of five or six persons pursued Vance, waylaid and attacked him, shooting him several times, one of the balls passing entirely through the body. A gentleman who saw Vance when he was shot, and who left him the day after, informs us that he cannot possibly survive beyond a few hours. Mr. Vance has an aged and affectionate mother living in this place, whose grief is inconsolable at this great calamity that has be-all len her in her old age. She is now, we believe, childless—her son William died about two months since. She is the sister of the Hon. Geo. Mcluffle, of South Carolina. Seems idea of the advantages that our citizens have derived from the German colony (says the Houster Telegraph) may be formed from the inct, that it is estimated that these colonists have here expended by the colonists this season, for transportation, corn, cattle, &c. It is estimated that these colonists have introduced into the State not less than $1,000,000 in specie within the last three years.

Upwards of 1200 emigrants, nearly all from Bremen, had arrived at Galveston during INTERESTING PROM CAMPEACHY.—An arrival this morning puts us in possessien of accounts to the 224 ult. A letter of that date states that Campeachy has positively despatched a force of 2500 men, which was joined by 500 on the road, with 12 pieces artillery, all well equipped, with a view to compel the government at Merida to succumb to the pronunciamento of Campeachy of 8th December.

ped, with a view to compel the government at Merida to succumb to the pronunciamento of Campacaty of 8th December.

The object of the pronunciamento and of this movement, is declared to be to maintain the neutrality of the peninsula as between the United States and Mexico, and put down the government, which they say has wedded the country to Santa Anna.

The people of Campacathy have elected Don Domingo Barret, Provisional Governor. He addressed, on the 11th ult., a long communication to the government of Merida, setting forth the causes of the insurrection in Campacaty. We received this document at too late an hour to examine it to-day.

ATTEMPTED MURDER NEAR KANCOCAS, N. J.—A man, named Wilson, made a desperate attempt upon the life of a woman, said to be his wife, living about a mile from Kancocas Bridge, N. J., on Monday evening last. He forced her to swallow a quantity of laudanum, but, through her resistance, failing to get sufficient down her throat to cause death, he beat her in a most brutal manner, and then stabbed her in the breast, leaving her in an almost lifeless condition. The man fied, and has not yet been arrested. Wilson is said to be an Irishman by birth, and may be known by the bridge of his nose having been broken several years since by a kick of a horse.—Newark Adv., Jan. 13.

ASHES —The transactions in both descriptions continue small at $5 for pots, and $5,50 for pearls.

Bradstupps.—There was rather more doing to-day. Large lots of western changed hands, mostly for export, at $5,50. Wheat—Genesee is selling at $1,15: Corn, new, white, 75 cents, yellow 73; Bouthern, 72½ x 73; Rye, 85 a 86 cents.

Corron—The sales yesterday were 2000 bales, to-day there is less doing. The purchasers are mainly spinners, except where opportunities offer of filling up vessels at a low rate of freight, which brings out a shipper. But little is doing on speculation at present. Prices are steady at the quotations—may be consulted in the treatment of certain delicate discases. A practice of fourteen years devated to venereal discases. A practice of fourteen years devated to venereal discases. A practice of fourteen years devated to venereal discases, enables Dr. C. to cure the worst form of this disease;

recent cases cured in four days; no mercury used; Stricture cured in one or two weeks, without any pain; Constitutional debitity. Those individuals who have indulged in a certain loathsome habit, can positively be restored to health and society. Dr. C. has not removed his office, as insinuated by a certain mushroom dentist

so plann and practical is it on these anojects, that it's impossible any one should fast to understand the nature, and the best way of curing them; also, the recipes used in tie author's own practice are given, for making the remedies required.

But it has another merit. It shows there are other diseases which very much resemble veneral or gonorhoea and which are communicated too, in the same way, but which twe nothing at all te do with either of them. Little do people think when they are being durgged by a mer voracious quask, that in many cases, they have no such disease upon them.

Ly This work is, therefore, designed as a protection against imposition, and a safe guide 70 those who would treat their own case with privacy and success. 136 In a many cases, they have no such disease, who would treat their own case with privacy and success.

EXTRACT OF SARBAPARILLA.

This Extract is put up is quart bottles—tt is six times. It heaper, pleasanter, and warranted superior to any sold. It cures disease without vomiting, purging, sickening or debilitating the patient. The great beauty and superiority of this Barsaparila over all other remedies is, whilst it cradify cates diseases it invigoraterthe body. This is the most extra ordinary medicine in the world. It has performed more than 1,000 cures of Rheumatism.

1,000 cures of Guenar debility or 7, 7,000 cures of diseases of the blood—ulcers, acrofula, cyraipelas, salt theum, pimples on the face, &c., &c., together with numerous cases of consumption, liver complaints, animal affections &c. This, we are aware, must appear incredible, but we have letters from physicians and our agents frem all parts of the United States, informing us of extraordinary cures. K. Yan Buskirk, Eq., one of the most respectable druggists in Newark, New Jersey, informs us that he can refer to more than one hundred and fifty cases in that place alone. There are thousands of cases in the city of New York which we will refer to with pleasure, and to men of character well known.

Abany, April 1, 1845.

The following is from one of the most respectable physicians on Long Island:

Dr. Townsend:—Dear Sir—It is with satisfaction that I say to you, that I have recently witnessed, in several cases, the most beneficial results from your Extract of Sarsaparilla—Being ecgaged in the practice of medicine, I have prescribed it in several cases, and never without benefit. In the removal of diseases arising from a deranged site of the digestive organs, jaundice, &c., at far exceeds any thing of the kind ever before offered to the public. You will please scand me two dozen, &c., &c.

Respectfully vonts.

S.C. PRESTON, M. D.

Dr. Townsend—Being afflicted with Dyspepsia, for a long time past, I have endeavored frequently to eradicate it from the system by the use of Physic, in watous forms, but I found out at last, the more I used physic, the weaker the organs of life became, rendering uncertain the prospect of affecting a cure. Recently this complaint developed itself fearfailly, causing ulcerations about the throat and traches, impairing seriously the organs of life in their physical functions. In this state I was recommeded to try your Naraparilla Syrup; siter using two bottles I find myself relieved from this complaint, and all its distressing symptoms. In my case, by its lifegiving influence, it has restored the system to its natural state. My confidence in its power to effect a cure in case of general functional derangement of the organs of life, impel me to recommend your Sarapaparilla to the sflicted.

Dr. Townsend, Sir.—Seme time since you requested my opinion of the virtues of your Compound Syrap of Sersapa rilla. I am now p epared to give it. I have used it in my practice and prescribed it for the last few months, and must give it my decided preference over any thing of the kind with which I am acquainted, both as to its medicinal virtues and the reasonable price at which you sell it. In acrofitous affections, citinanous and liver complaints, I am much pleased with its effects. In these complaints, or any other where Saraparilla is indicated, I can with confidence recommend it to the patronage of the profession as a valuable auxiliary for removing dis sase is mome of its most troublesome forms, and to all, sa a safe and valuable medicine. BENJ. WEEKS,M.D. Brooklyn, November 184, 1868.

No fluid or medicine has ever bedn diacovered which so neary resembles the gastric juice or saliva, in discomposing food and strengthening the organs of digestion, as this preparation of Saraparilla. It positively curse every case of dyspepais, however severe or chronic.

A BERNETHY'S BOTANICAL FILLS, for the speedy A andignatical cure of Venereal Diseases, Gleets, Strictures, Urtehral Diseases, Whites, Female Weskness, &c., &c.—These Fills are made from the prescription of the late celebrated Dr. Abennethy, who, for a great many years, successfully prescribed them in all stages of the nove diseases, not only in his private practice, but in several public hospitals.

They possess great advantages over all liquid medicines, by their not disagreeing with the stomach or affecting the breath, which readers them extremely convenient to take, without exciting the least auspiction.

The wide celebrity of Abernethy's Fills is the best guarantee for their quick and positive vuccess in curing all the above complaints. In the early stages of genorihon one box is generally sufficient to effect a cure in a few days, but the Fills should be taken for two or three days after all the symptoms have disspeared. In long protracted chronic cases, obstimate gleets, and constitutional difficulties, they are equally central, but generally require a little longer time, as thousands can testify who have been cured in an almost incredible short space of time.

They may be taken at any time and under any circumstances, with but little regard to diet, except in abstaning from spirituous and fermented liquors. Full directions accompany each box.
